

GRAVITY

OPERATIONAL BUDGETING

CLARITY, CONTROL, AND COLLABORATION ACROSS EVERY DEPARTMENT

Building an operational budget involves more than setting line items. It means coordinating departments, projecting personnel costs, and balancing service delivery with financial responsibility. Gravity brings structure to the process with a centralized workspace that keeps everything aligned from initial requests to final approval.

DESIGNED FOR THE WAY GOVERNMENTS WORK

With Gravity, department heads, analysts, and finance leaders work in the same system. Templates, approvals, and assumptions remain connected, ensuring everyone stays informed without the need for email threads or version confusion.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT

- Collect departmental budgets in a structured, guided workflow
- Your data automatically flows within your personal and capital budget
- Use real-time data to build and revise operational budget scenarios
- Review and approve line items with role-based access and controls
- Track historical, actuals, and fund balances all in one place
- Align operating budgets with capital plans and long-term forecasts
